

SHARON WORRELL

Sharon has been certified through Elijah House, an inner healing and prayer counseling ministry. Through Light University (associated with the American Association of Christian Counselors), Sharon holds a board certification in biblical counseling. She has been a lay counselor in the Christian community for the past 10 years. Sharon's associations include: Youth with a Mission, The Evangelical Sisterhood of Mary, Women's Aglow Fellowship, Healing House, and Hope for Healing, and The Missionary Church International, through which she has non-profit status.

Sharon is the wife of a recovered sex addict and has been through extensive partners' recovery. Years of living in denial and shutting away emotions, precipitated the journey of recovering her heart and reconnecting with herself. It is this journey that has given her entrance to the hearts of those who struggle as partners of sex addicts. Her passion is to teach others to truly live out of their hearts.

Sharon's primary focus is leading partners' groups using a twelve-step program especially designed for partners. Co-dependency will be addressed, as well as, learning how to establish healthy boundaries. For those who prefer not to share in a group setting, individual prayer counseling is also available.

Those who may benefit from prayer counseling:

- Find themselves in deeply ingrained cycles of destructive patterns
- Brokenness in relationships, control, anger, emotional and physical abuse
- Generational patterns (i.e.: addictions, abuse, divorces)
- Root issues that have created unhealthy belief systems
